WHO?

ISAK [ISAAC]

Isak was brought to life by Swedish designer Sandra Isaksson. She was raised by a family of trolls in the heart of a Swedish forest. Blueberrykissed; she sculpted clouds and painted rainbows, carved with wind and whittled snowflakes from skybears.

Its all about... peaceful raspberry afternoons by the lake. Flowery green wallpaper behind an orange sofa. Sonja's long sleeveless dress, tied with straps under bouncy bossoms. A tray brimful with home made strawberry squash and cinnamon buns. Old books and magazines from a time long ago called the 50's. Coffee cups stacked in a cupboard with amazing patterns and decorations. Each room opening up to another feast for the eye, each old drawer containing memories of old days. Waking up from picnic napping, blueberry lipped and sun kissed. Laughing. Midnight skinny dipping with boys. Secret moonlight silhouettes. Fast bike rides home in the dark, young hearts pounding with hope and promise Apple green wallpaper behind an orange sofa, awfully squeaky in the night. Beautiful happy things...

Today, Isak is Nick Felgate and Sandra Isaksson. They meet in Denmark while Sandra was still a naughty student and Nick was a gallivanting fast jet pilot flying Euro fighters. After completing her MA degree in graphic design & illustration Sandra joined Nick in the Uk. Many years and two children later they are passionate designing and creating responsibly made and sourced products for home and children. The Isak spirit is very much rooted in Sandra's childhood memories of Sweden. They're all about the family, spending time outdoors together, having fun and enjoying life!
